FOREIGN OFFICE CHANGES TONE IN NICARAGUA CASE

It is Believed Press Department of Government Does Not Run Smoothly.

Has No Ax to Grind in Central America.

INSPIRED PRESS EDITORIALS.

Berlin, July 13.—The German foreign office this afternoon authorized the United Press representative to say it had not authorized a denial of contents of the cablegrams sent yesterday, regarding the American supervision of German diplomacy in Central America. The cause of the conflicting statements was the absence of Private Councillor Hannan, chief of the press department, and action of his subordinates.

Berlin, July 13.—Germany today experienced a change of heart, regarding America's attitude toward her diplomatic relations with Central and South American countries. Yesterday's and this morning's papers, known to be under the domination of the foreign office, declared Germany will never submit to the supervision of America in her diplomatic relations.

This afternoon's newspapers, equally under control of the foreign office, declare that Germany recognizes right to supervise her relations with Central and South American countries. This morning's Post says: "We are not vassals of American presidents and shall do as we please."

This afternoon's Zeitung, the official government organ, says: "The German government doesn't claim the right to maintain diplomatic relations with Central and South American countries without supervision of the American government." The change of attitude of the papers is general. It is one of the many instances where the foreign office returned completely about. In the press department of the foreign office the four members appear unable to work in harmony.

Instances are numerous where one member has given out one kind of statement, to be denied by another. It is common for one member of the foreign office to give out a statement of one kind to one correspondent and another a different. In the statement today the foreign office draws attention to the fact that Norway, Belgium, Switzerland, Chili and Argentina recognized Madrid in Nicaragua before Germany did.

The totally unexpected change on the part of the foreign office is scarcely explicable. This morning's Post says: "The Kaiser doesn't need to apply to the head of a foreign state or the editors of American jingo press for information as to diplomatic correspondence. Even if his majesty should address a foreign ruler in an unusual manner, it is no concern of American reporters, who still have much to learn from European politeness."

The Vossische Zeitung says: "Germany chose the usual form of acknowledging Madrid's announcement that he had been chosen president of Nicaragua. The fact that Madrid is not recognized by the United States or any other power is absolutely no concern of Germany."

Washington Pleased.

Washington, July 13.—The calming of the temper in the German foreign office, stirred up over the Kaiser's letter, was viewed at Washington today with satisfaction. The satisfaction probably is more thorough as the incident accentuated the fact they find no objection toward the United States exercising functions asserted in the Monroe doctrine. The state department has taken no official exception to the Kaiser's letter.

DENTAL ASSOCIATION CONCLUDES ITS MEETING

After one day's session the Southwestern Kentucky Dental association adjourned at the city hall at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Clinton was selected as the place for the semi-annual meeting Tuesday, October 11. The next annual meeting comes to Paducah during May. The month for the annual meeting was fixed earlier in the year owing to the warm weather in July. The old committees were retained and they will stand until May, 1911. The visiting dentists returned home last night and this morning well pleased with the result of the first annual session.

Aeronauts Dashed Five Thousand Feet and Are Crushed to a Pulp When Found—Four Lose Lives

Man, Who Won Gordon Bennett Cup in "Pommern" From St. Louis Among the Victims.

Cologne, July 13.—Oscar Erbsloeh the world renowned scientist and aviator, and four companions were dashed to death early today near Patscheid, West Germany, when the dirigible balloon "Erbsloeh" fell 5,000 feet.

Their bodies were removed from the debris, absolutely unrecognizable.

The balloon resembled the "Zeppelin." It was one-sixth as large and consisted of twelve balloon nets. The "Erbsloeh" made several flights, and was considered one of the best type. It ascended today from Dusseldorf, from where the ill-fated "Zeppelin" dirigible started on its last voyage. In the car rode Erbsloeh, two companions and two mechanics.

Near Patscheid one of the balloon nets burst. All the gas bags were torn open and the heavy car fell.

It was impossible to learn the cause of the accident, the dirigible was so completely wrecked.

However, it is believed the expansion of gas caused by the sun's heat put too much strain on the bags.

Erbsloeh was well known in the United States. He piloted the balloon "Pommern" in the international races, starting at St. Louis in 1907. He landed in New Jersey because the reached the ocean, winning the Gordon Bennett cup. He made several remarkable ascensions in Europe. He was considered fearless.

The fatal voyage lasted 45 minutes. The dirigible was almost over the village of Patscheid in the Rhine province, when the accident occurred. Several theories as to the cause have been advanced.

Some believe one of the gasoline motors exploded, but the expansion of gas is the most probable cause. It was noticed the gas bags were completely full before the sun came out, when Erbsloeh, and his companions ascended. The balloon belonged to the Rhine Aerial club. Although much smaller than the Zeppelin airship, it was not so cumbersome. The disaster resembles in all its details the one which befell five French officers several months ago when their gas bag collapsed. Erbsloeh was known all over Europe for daring flights in February, 1909, with three companions he made a flight across the Alps landing at Budapest after remaining in the air 33 hours.

LONE OAK BANK IS ORGANIZED FOR WORK

Temporary organization of the bank at Lone Oak has been completed with the election of officers who will serve until the stock is sold, and all is ready for the completion of the organization. The bank will be capitalized at $15,000 and it is expected to be open for business by January 1, 1911. E. F. Furell was elected president and Dr. J. Davis secretary. Dr. R. C. Gore, Dr. Davis and J. J. Sanderson were appointed members of a committee to have charge of the sale of the stock. It is proposed to erect a two-story building 40x60 feet. The first floor will be occupied by the bank, and the second will be constructed suitable for a lodge room.

Wholesale Arrests Are Made in Newark

Newark, O., July 13.—Anxiety prevails today, following the refusal of bail for ten citizens, charged with participating in the lynching Friday night. The announcement is made that the prisoners are to face the grand jury Monday, charged with murder. Attorney General Denman has taken personal charge in an endeavor to carry out Governor Harrison's declaration that every member of the mob will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. More arrests are expected.

The predictions and temperature for the past twenty-four hours will be found at the top of the seventh column on page four.

KILLED FOR MONEY.

New Orleans, July 13.—One of the most daring and sensational attempts of the "Black Hand" agents to secure money resulted today in the death of John Manzella, a wealthy Sicilian saloonkeeper, and Joseph Spingino, a black hand suspect, Spingino entered Manzella's place in broad daylight and demanded money. He shot Manzella and Manzella's daughter shot him.

BASEBALL GAME THIS AFTERNOON

HOPKINSVILLE AND PADUCAH WILL MEET ON THE DIAMOND.

With the permission of the weatherman the Indians and the Hopkinsville team will begin a series of four games this afternoon at League park. The Hopkinsville team headed by Manager Johnny Ray arrived this morning from Vincennes. Harris and Overton will be the battery for Paducah this afternoon while Otter, a recruit, will be tried out by Ray with Cranor or Guessler behind the bat. President Richard Clements, of the local club, has received a telegram from President C. C. Goenell, announcing the appointment of Pete Burger as an umpire. He succeeds Lucas who resigned. Bulger has played amateur ball around Paducah for several years, and has a general knowledge of the national sport. Bulger will officiate this afternoon. Duddy and Keller, two new players with the Hopkinsville team, have been handed their releases as they were in too swift company.

"Bobby" Mercer, the little outfielder who was released last week by the Indians, was signed today to Hopkinsville to play second base. Mercer is a speedy fielder, and with the proper coaching should make good. He is a little weak at batting. Vonadore will be out of the game this afternoon owing to an injured knee, which he hurt Sunday. Block will play second base this afternoon, and Woodring probably will play in right field.

Belgian King in Paris.
Paris, July 13.—The king and queen of Belgium have arrived on an official visit. A program of fetes has been arranged in their honor.

Dull Knife Used to Slash Throat.
Jackson, Tenn., July 13.—Mrs. Robert Cook, wife of a prominent farmer of Millin, in this county, lies at her home dying from a gash in her throat, supposed to have been self-inflicted. It is said the dullness of the knife saved her from immediate death.

Not a Contortionist

Tom Barns, of 1102 South Third street, is confined to his home as the result of a peculiar accident yesterday. While working on a ladder 12 feet above the ground the rung he was standing upon broke and he fell into a barrel in a sitting attitude. His cries brought help and he was extracted from the painful position. He was severely bruised.

Wholesale Arrests Are Made in Newark

It became known today that an affidavit and evidence, charging Newark officials with misconduct in office, are in possession of the detective agency which worked in behalf of anti-saloon league, and which resulted in the lynching of Carl Etherington. They will be held until the governor calls for it. The affidavits are looked in the vaults of the detective agency headquarters at Cleveland. Harry Bradbury, head of the bureau, said today that the evidence compiled is appalling. Mayor Atherton is being urged to resign.

Hartje Divorce

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 13.—Augustus Martje, the millionaire paper manufacturer, this afternoon was granted an absolute divorce.

ALLEN'S SALOON CLOSED—HE HAD NO BOND ON FILE

Surety Company Refused to Put Up When Warrant Was Heard.

May Lose Amount of His License Fee.

IS FINED IN THE POLICE COURT.

A death blow to the saloon of George Allen, colored, 116 Kentucky avenue, charged with furnishing liquor to minors, was dealt today when Police Judge D. A. Cross entered a fine of $50 against him. Refusal of his bonding company to sign his bond, resulted in Chief of Police Henry Singery closing up the place of business immediately after the judgment was rendered. Allen paid the fine and will not take an appeal. His license was renewed, but never issued, and he has up $250, which the city will endeavor to keep.

Two counts against Allen for having sold beer to Maynard Stovall, colored, and Susie Rutter, colored, were dismissed this morning, the commonwealth failing to make out cases against him. The last count, charging him with selling beer to Mary Hunter, colored, was left open until today for arguments. The fine of $50 imposed yesterday against George Goodman, colored, the bartender, was set aside by Judge Cross today by reason of the court of appeals' decision in finding against the principal, who was Allen.

Attorney James Campbell, Sr., who represented Allen, argued at length, upon the plea that Goodman had failed to obey instructions from Allen in selling to minors. He cited several decisions by the appellate court in an effort to show that Goodman was guilty and not Allen. City Attorney A. V. Martin followed Mr. Campbell in a convincing argument. The proof showed that Goodman, acting for Allen took orders for drinks in Will Thornton's restaurant, adjoining the saloon and that Allen was on watch at the bar the day Mary Hunter bought the beer. Thornton was given instructions by the court today to bar Mary Hunter, Maynard Stovall, and Susie Rutter from his restaurant and not to allow any liquor to be drunk in his place hereafter.

Mayor Smith will not have to act in revoking Allen's license as his failure to get a bond settles this. The police will keep a careful eye open for saloonists, who sell to minors.

Waives Examination.

Ford Jackson waived an examination in police court this morning on a charge of obtaining money by false pretenses and was held over to the grand jury under $300 bond, which he failed to execute and was sent to the county jail. He is charged with selling a pair of trousers and shoes to Jim Grogan, colored, the property being claimed by J. W. Province, a merchant of Gilbertsville, whose store was robbed July 2. Johnson is thought to have had some connection with the robbery.

The case against Felix Merriweather, a prisoner of the city jail, charged with stealing a coat, was continued until tomorrow.

Ford Jackson Confesses

Ford Jackson, held at the county jail, confessed today to breaking into J. W. Province's store at Gilbertsville, the night of July 3. He implicates Noah Coffee, who is in the city jail serving out a fine.

Shoved the Queer

The police are looking for a small red-faced tramp who is believed to have been passing counterfeit dollars. Mat Husbands and the Paducah Traction company filed complaints today and Patrolman Ende Goureaux took a 1912 specimen to police headquarters today.

BALL OF FIRE FOLLOWS WIRES INTO RESIDENCE

Mrs. E. H. Cross and daughter, Miss Ethel Cross, 12 years old, of 1018 Jackson street, were shocked by lightning about 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon during the thunder storm that swept Paducah for a short time. A ball of fire coursing along the telephone wires entered the room, burning out the phone and stunning Mrs. Cross and her daughter for several minutes. Miss Mamie Edwards, 9 years old, who was in the room at the time, did not feel the shock. Little Miss Cross was deafened last night in one ear, but is improving today.

HUGE DEAL PENDING.

Reported Ten Million Pounds of Tobacco to Be Sold Independents.
Lexington, Ky., July 13.—The district board of the Burley Tobacco society, with representatives present from 60 or more counties, convened here today to consider among other questions, the prospects for the sale of the 1909 crop. Sentiment seems strong for another pool this year, despite the fact that not a pound of the 1909 crop has yet been sold, or even graded. Negotiations are said to be progressing for the sale of ten million pounds to independent factories but this could not be verified.

KING OF BURGLAR LAND IS NO MORE

MAN, WHO SAID POLICE PROTECTION COST HIM A MILLION, IS DEAD.

West Swansey, N. H., July 13.—Charlie Adams, whose real name was Langdon Moore, famed throughout the world as the "king of burglars," is dead here today, after four years' peace with the world. Adams engineered many "breaks," his most famous being the robbery of the Concord National bank, taking $306,000 from the vault while the cashier was at dinner. He was arrested at Paulsboro, N. J., and gave the police $202,331 of his booty. Moore's last robbery was of the Warren institution, Boston, in 1880. He was caught and sent to the pen for ten years and six years more on another charge. Moore said he had paid the police departments of the country one million dollars for protection.

WILHELMS ASK RE-DISTRIBUTION

SEEK ANNULMENT OF CONTRACT BECAUSE TERMS WERE NOT COMPLIED WITH.

In their answer filed this afternoon in the McCracken circuit court to the suit of George W. Bains, of Birmingham, Ala., vs. the Wilhelm heirs, the defendants ask that the court direct that the entire estate of William Beadles, as it was at the death of his wife, be distributed among the heirs. The estate is valued at about $60,000 and includes real estate in Paducah and Birmingham, Ala., and bank stock in Paducah and Mayfield banks. Suit was filed some time ago by Mr. Bains against the heirs for his interest in the property located on Jefferson street west of the Hotel Craig. In the answer the defendants file a counter-claim for the division of the entire estate anew. It is stated that at the death of Mrs. Beadles the estate was left to the two children, Mrs. Ella Wilhelm, of Paducah, and Mrs. George Bains, of Birmingham. The two sisters reached an agreement and in consideration of bank securities and property on Broadway, Mrs. Bains deeded to Mrs. Wilhelm her interest in the property on Jefferson street. In the petition it is alleged that Mr. Bains never signed the deed and it is the contention of the defendants that as the agreement was not carried out in full, it is all void, and they ask for the cancellation of the deed to the property on Broadway. Since the agreement both sisters have died.

The answer asks that only the Beadles estate be redivided, and does not include the hotel property, as this was the property of Mrs. Wilhelm, or the old Beadles homestead, which was willed to the Wilhelm heirs by Mrs. Bains.

DOWN IS BETTER BUT CONDITION IS PRECARIOUS

Peculiar Case of Fredonia Man, Who Became Suddenly Ill Here.

His Wife Will Arrive in Paducah Tonight.

IS GUEST AT PALMER HOUSE.

Although slightly better this afternoon, L. H. Downs, a traveling salesman of Fredonia, is in a serious condition in his room at the Palmer House as a result of a congestive chill or a stroke of apoplexy some time yesterday. All last night his condition was considered hopeless, but this afternoon he rallied slightly. He was not discovered ill until last night when he failed to leave his room, and probably had been in that condition for 18 hours.

Mr. Downs registered at the Palmer House Tuesday morning at 2 o'clock, having arrived on fast passenger train No. 104. He was assigned to room No. 83, and asked Sam Abell, the night clerk not to awaken him as he needed sleep. Early Tuesday morning Mr. Abell went off watch, and when he returned to duty last night he was notified by the housekeeper that Mr. Downs was still asleep.

His room was opened and it was discovered that he was breathing peculiarly. Medical aid was summoned, and a physician said that he probably could not live through the night. This morning there was no change in his condition, but at noon his condition became more hopeful. Mr. Downs is not known in Paducah, but he is said to be a traveling salesman for a produce company. His wife at Fredonia was notified late last night of his condition, but she cannot arrive in Paducah until 4:20 o'clock this afternoon.

Mr. Downs is about 40 years of age.

Pasadena, Cal., July 13.—Dr. Jas. Ward, of San Francisco, president of the American Institute of Homeopathy, delivered the opening address to 300 delegates at the annual convention. Dr. Ward recommended the appointment of a general field secretary, who should give his entire time to promoting the interests of homeopathy. He asserted that the homeopathic school had only itself to blame for any inimical legislation that might be enacted, and cautioned against indifference to hostility.

Merry-Go-Round.

Coming across the River Beach ferry the other day, were two men whose antics attracted considerable attention. The younger would step around to the right side of his companion and within a minute the elder would take a corresponding shift. At last the elder man became irritated.

"Say, what are you trying to do shifting around like this?" he demanded.

"I'm deaf in my left ear and was trying to get where I'd hear well," the younger replied.

"And I'm blind in my left eye and wanted to see what was doing," said the other. —Boston Journal.

Before the players had finished warming up yesterday the rain storm struck League park, and in a few minutes the park was transferred from a baseball field to a lake. About 150 fans were in the grand stand and most of them received a shower bath. Two games were scheduled and a large crowd would have been on hand had the rain not prevented the games. Before 3 o'clock it was ascertained that it would be impossible to play even one game, and the players returned to the city. Clarksville made a hurry getaway for Vincennes going by way of Princeton and Evansville instead of Cairo.

Friday will be ladies' day, and all of the fair sex of the city are expected to be guests of the Paducah Baseball association. Hopkinsville will be opponents of the Indians.

Saturday night the Indians will leave for Vincennes, where a series of four games will be opened. However, the diamond will not be idle as Clarksville and Hopkinsville will play on the local lot. Sunday games are prohibited in both Clarksville and Hopkinsville and the visiting teams will borrow the local diamond. A large crowd will be out to see the game.

Hoppers Drop Another.

Vincennes, Ind., July 13.—Vincennes made it four straight from the tailenders yesterday afternoon by taking the last game of the series. Demaree twirled for the visitors and was touched up for ten safe runs, while Brumfield held the Hoppers down to three bingles.

Baseball Talk.

"Bobby" Mercer was released by Paducah and may secure a tryout with Vincennes. The little fielder made a favorable impression with Manager Nairn, of the Alices, and with some coaching might develop into a good stickler.

Ben Nippert, a catcher from Cincinnati, has been signed by Manager John Ray for the Hopkinsville team. The new back stop is expected to join the Moguls in Paducah and do the heavy work during the series beginning today. Lynch, one of the Hopkinsville players, has been released. Lynch has not been playing a good game because of injuries.

The first half of the Kitty league baseball season will end with the games of July 22 instead of with those of July 20 as has been announced. President Gosnell finds that the records of the league show the first half of the season was to consist of sixty games. In the schedule a game was arranged for June 31 but as there are but thirty days in June this game had to be thrown out. It was also figured the sixty games would end July 20, but in going over the schedule it is found the sixty game schedule does not end until July 22. This will come after Vincennes has played two games at Hopkinsville and Paducah, two at Clarksville. The first series in the second half of the season schedule will thus consist of but two games. —Vincennes Capital.

NEW PLAN

CONCEIVED BY GOVERNOR TO GIVE CONVICTS FREEDOM.

Will Issue Orders Respecting Sentences of Courts—Changes Penitentiaries.

Frankfort, Ky., July 13.—Gov. Willson is through with conditional pardons. In the future he will issue orders respecting the sentence imposed by the court with the condition that if the terms of the respite are disobeyed the man given his liberty will be returned to the penitentiary. The governor will use a form which he is now preparing, and the person accepting the suspension of the sentence must sign this order pledging himself to accept its terms.

The orders of suspension of sentence will be made in triplicates, one copy for the secretary of state's office, one copy for the man in whose behalf the order is issued and one for the warden of the penitentiary.

If the man who is confined in the penitentiary escapes it will not be necessary to get a new order for his commitment in the penitentiary, but the warden will have as his authority for receiving the prisoner the original order committing him to the penitentiary.

Expect Prison Shake-Ups.

At the meeting of the prison commission in August, there will be a number of shake-ups in the officials of the Frankfort and Eddyville penitentiaries. The term of Dr. Joseph Severance, chaplain of the prison in this city will expire July 31 and it is understood that Walter Z. Vreeland and John Vreeland, will land the place. Dr. Joseph Barr, who is the physician at the Frankfort penitentiary will also be retired and will be succeeded by Dr. M. H. Maggard, of Ashland.

At the Eddyville penitentiary Dr. R. H. Moss, of Hodgenville, will succeed Dr. John A. Watkins as physician. Dr. Watkins goes to Hopkinsville, where he will become assistant physician at the Central Asylum. Dr. Moss was a member of the 1910 general assembly, and established himself and enviable reputation. He is one of the leading doctors and druggists of that section of the state.

Dr. Barr has been one of the most painstaking physicians to ever hold the place at the penitentiary here and the convicts are sorry to see him go, for he has not only been their physician, but their friend.

Mourning Colors.

There is poetry even in mourning colors. Black symbolizes the solemn midnight gloom, the total deprivation of light and joy occasioned by the loss of friends. The Persians mourn in pale brown, the color of withered leaves.

The Ethiopians affect a grayish brown, the color of the earth to which the bodies of the dead return. In Syria sky blue is the color of mourning, indicative of the assurance that the deceased has come to heaven. Purple, the mourning of Kings, is doubtless derived from the purple garment which the Roman soldiers put upon Christ when they mockingly hailed Him as "King of the Jews." —London Chronicle.

The Austrians are reputed to use a higher average quality of tea than any other people in the world, except, perhaps, the Russians, and to prepare it with more intelligence.

It has been said that women never provide for the future. To this Eve stands as a permanent contradiction.

Twenty Dollars For Two

You would not trade twenty dollars worth of butter for two dollars worth of veal. Yet I can name bright farmers, right in this neighborhood, who feed young stock butter fat worth 25 to 35 cents a pound, when oil meal would be just as good for them. If you feed milk set and skimmed by hand, you are leaving one-quarter to one-half the butter fat in the milk. You are feeding valuable butter to produce cheap calf fat or pig fat. Gentlemen, that don't pay.

BOB SHARP.

Bob Sharp is the son of a true blue father with a political record. At present he is the head of the postoffice inspection department and is doped for the Republican candidate for governor of Tennessee. Bob hails from Chattanooga, where he is known not only for keenness of intellect and probity, but for political sagacity, which has given the Democrats of Hamilton county more than one surprise. If Bob runs for governor, it won't be merely for the purpose of "keeping up the organization." He will run for the office and he may be expected to take advantage of all the rifts in the Democratic flut, which Senator Taylor thinks does not chime with his fiddle. Bob Sharp, while in the internal revenue service, healed several breaches in the Republican organization, and it looks like a good chance for the East Tennessee.

STRAWS IN UNCERTAIN WINDS.
"Straws show which way the wind blows," but straw votes sometimes may indicate either a tempest or the uncertainty of the public breeze.

The Cincinnati Enquirer has just finished a canvass of Illinois politically, like that it took of Ohio and Indiana, and the same apparently anomalous condition is found to exist; a majority like Taft, and almost unanimously correspondents agree that the Payne tariff is not satisfactory.

PUBLIC LIBRARY GROWS

An increase of 3,000 in circulation for the last year is the good record, which shows the growing popularity of the public library. Following is the report of the librarian for the second quarter of 1910:

Accessions.—Total number of volumes in library, 9,183; accessioned during quarter, 640; donated, 19; sewed and repaired at library, 154; bound and repaired at bindery, 50; withdrawn, 42; lost and paid for, 3; lost and not paid for, 4; transferred from rent to circulation, 16.

be obtained that way, as we pointed out when the Chicago Tribune took a poll. No one is satisfied with the tariff. President Taft so expressed himself when he signed it; but—must we reiterate?—he believes no fair revision can be made until accurate and honest data is secured by a commission of experts.

This commission was provided for in the bill, as well as the corporation tax, exposure of corporation books and the maximum and minimum schedules, progressive provisions, which he thought—and we do, too—the country could not afford to risk again. So, he signed the bill, promising further revision just as soon as the commission reports. Those who cannot now understand the president's position in the matter will understand when the commission reports, and he recommends further revision, and then all these stacks of straw votes will be gathered among the debris of wasted efforts.

Two thousand people attended the funeral of young Etherington, who was hanged by a mob at Newark, O. There were, it is understood, three mourners and one thousand nine hundred, ninety-seven rubber-necks.

WANT A DARK HORSE.

A dark horse may be likened to the pedigree, but unregistered, animal, which, not having made a mark on the grand circuit, is "camped in the sticks," as the vernacular has it, or taken to the country fairs to beat the local skates in the free-for-all events, until that unfortunate day, when some other fast animal pushes it too hard for a big stake, and it makes a mark. After that it is no longer a "dark horse" but is put in a class, whose slowest gait is the fastest the erstwhile dark horse ever ran. The wise horseman then sells it.

Such is the character of man Kentucky Democracy is seeking for as a candidate for governor. Ben Johnson has a mark, and a blemish way back yonder, that would disqualify him, if other elements of unpopularity had not already convinced his backers of the futility of entering him. Mayor Head, of Louisville, seems to be the most available for the purpose, but he also has made a mark, and his name is too closely linked with that of the talent at Louisville. Senator McCreary does not please a large element of the stable grooms. He has been a good race horse in his day, they say.

The man desired is one with not too much record in campaigning, who will go out over the circuit of county fairs and clean up the political free-for-all. The Louisville crowd feel able to take care of the results there, one way or another. If they can only find the "dark horse" they can trust to run when they flash the whip and hold back when they pull the reins, and yet fool the rural population into believing they are getting a run for their money.

Just now it is anybody's opportunity for the nomination. Anyone who has a name he has been silently cogitating in the secret recesses of his innermost heart, has a chance to be the first to suggest—possibly—the next governor of Kentucky. All suggestions should be addressed to the Buckingham theater, Louisville, Ky.

Certainly Was.

The killing of Edward Riley by his brother, John Riley, in this county last Wednesday morning was indeed a bad and most deplorable affair. The evidence introduced in the examining trial of last Friday made the tragedy appear very bad.—Princeton Leader.

General Business Property.

When an active, experienced and sagacious business man buys Fourth street property, near Broadway, for $1,231 a foot, it is manifest that he has confidence in the rapid growth of the business of Louisville. This price for property in this locality would not be considered high in any growing city of the west or south. Louisville has undervalued its own real estate. Its business is expanding in all directions, and demands for better accommodations are of a character that calls for larger plans and an extension of the area of business activities. Walnut street, Chestnut street and Broadway from First to Sixth is the business part of Louisville.—Louisville Post.

A word for the Jailers.

The court of appeals has given its opinion that the increase of $1,200 a year in the salary of circuit judges becomes effective at once, the constitution to the contrary notwithstanding, but the auditor construes the new law providing for the payment of 75 cents a day to jailers for a prisoner's keep—an increase of 25 cents a day over the old fee system—as not applying to jailers in office when the law was passed. The constitution seems clear on the point and we think the auditor's ruling is correct; but if the circuit judges are to have their increase, which is a substantial one, surely the jailers should have their pittance.—Clinton Gazette.

Dredging the Lower Ohio.

The war department has announced its intention of maintaining sufficient dredge boat service between Louisville and Paducah to keep the channel open for navigation during the coming low water season. Should the promise be carried out there will be no serious interruption of packet traffic. With a good dredging service throughout the low water period and with the gradual completion of the government dams on the river there would be increasing benefit to navigation. Since congress seems resolutely disposed to continue the work of river improvement on the "piecemeal plan" it will require at least 12 years to complete the scheme of canalization. In the mean time efficient dredging would help a great deal toward maintaining traffic and hopes for the future.—Courier-Journal.

The Lesson from Tennessee.

The unfortunate condition in the Democratic party in Tennessee is one that should furnish a valuable lesson to the Democrats of Kentucky and be a warning to them lest they should fall into similar peril. Governor Patterson and the influence back of him had possession of the party machinery and controlled all the nominations even to those of judges of the supreme court. Their conduct produced a storm of indignation and revolt within the party, and today the Democratic party in Tennessee is in a worse condition than it has ever been in that state since its reorganization after the war. Its only hope lies in the division in the Republican party. Some similar influences are at work seeking to capture the organization of the party in Kentucky, and to force upon the Democrats, through the sheer use of money and political machinery, nominations of men unsatisfactory to a majority of Democrats. The activities of these influences are apparent now to even casual observers, and there can be no doubt about their purpose to gain absolute control of the party organization of the state, just as they have it in the larger cities.—Kentucky State Journal.

GIFFORD PINCHOT WILL TAKE STUMP

DEPOSED FORESTER WILL OPPOSE OLD ORGANIZATIONS

His Announcement Immediately After a Conference With Roosevelt.

TAKES UP CALIFORNIA FIGHT.

New York, July 13.—Gifford Pinchot, former United States forester, announced today that he would leave for California tomorrow to take the stump in behalf of Hiram Johnson, who is seeking the gubernatorial nomination in California and endorsed for that honor by the Lincoln-Roosevelt League of California.

Mr. Pinchot's announcement was made shortly after a conference with Col. Roosevelt, in which Marshal Stimson, of Los Angeles, Cal., also took part. Mr. Pinchot said he would make several speeches in behalf of Mr. Johnson's candidacy, which he indicated was being strongly opposed by the old line Republican organizations of that state.

Neither Mr. Pinchot nor Marshal Stimson would say that Colonel Roosevelt had given his assurances of support to Mr. Johnson's gubernatorial aspirations.

Gillett Out of Race.—Marshal Stimson said that Governor Gillett would not seek another nomination and that the old line Republican organizations in California were backing the candidacies for governor of Charles F. Curry and Aiden Anderson. He declared that the Lincoln-Roosevelt League was seeking a more representative party government.

Mr. Pinchot said he had already made arrangements to make one speech for Mr. Johnson in California, but did not know how many more he might make. He said he would stop at Kansas City and address the Knife and Fork club on "Conservation" on July 15. It was before this club that Speaker Cannon made his attack on the insurgents.

German influence, it is said, is believed to be responsible for this anti-Japanese feeling.

HEAT MAKES CHILDREN ILL

Summer is a very trying period for young children, and many a child who is usually healthy suffers during the heated term. There are many dangers for the child in summer. These lie in milk, food, water, fruit, etc. The greatest peril is from some form of stomach or bowel trouble. It is usually the starting point of graver troubles. The child becomes constipated, or gets indigestion. Perspiration is interfered with, worms develop, the skin becomes scaly and itchy, and the poor child is in much misery. Do not let it go, and trust to luck or fate for a cure. Use a remedy like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is intended to cure that very condition and is especially adapted to children's ills because of its mildness and purity. If the child has any of these symptoms, or has not had a passage in 24 hours, it needs Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at once. It will act promptly but gently, and as it is pleasant to take you will not have to force it. A bottle can be obtained of any druggist at 50 cents or $1.00, and you should obtain a bottle today, so as to have it on hand for an emergency. ROOSEVELT, HUGHES

most important treaties of modern times, being just 237 words in length it follows:

"The imperial government of Japan and the imperial government of Russia sincerely attached to the principles established by the convention concluded between them on the 30-17 of July, 1907, and desirous to develop the effects of that convention with a view to the consolidation of peace in the extreme east, have agreed to complete the said arrangements by the following provisions:

"Article 1.—With the object of facilitating communication and developing the commerce of nations, the two high contracting parties mutually engaged to lend each other their friendly co-operation with a view to the amelioration of their respective railway lines in Manchuria and the improvement of the connecting service of the said railways, and to abstain from all competition prejudicial to the realization of this object.

"Article 2.—Each of the high contracting parties engages to maintain and respect the status quo in Manchuria resulting from the treaties, conventions and other arrangements concluded up to the day between Japan and Russia, or between either of these two powers and China. Copies of the aforesaid arrangements have been exchanged between Japan and Russia.

"Article 3.—In case any event arises of a nature to menace the status quo above mentioned, the two high contracting parties shall in each case enter into communication with each other in order to arrive at understandings as to the measures they may judge it necessary to take for the maintenance of said status quo."

Interesting Notes.

The convention has been presented to the state department by both the Russian and Japanese ambassadors. The note of transmission was almost as interesting as the agreement itself. Baron Rosen, the Russian ambassador, stated in his note that he was instructed in making the communication to express fully to the secretary of state the hope that he would find in the convention, which was described as reaffirming Russian peaceful relations with Japan, and as being directed neither against the interests of China nor those of any other power, a new pledge of stability and general peace in the far east.

Ambassador Uchida, of Japan, in his communication to the secretary of state, said he was instructed to make corresponding representations. Just before the state department closed today a dispatch was received from the German embassy at Tokio, setting forth more fully the attitude of Japan in drafting the new treaty, and seemingly disposing of the rumor that a secret treaty had been signed by the two countries. It was stated that the negotiations which resulted in the signing of the St. Petersburg convention began last November.

No Blow at United States.

Heralded as a direct and powerful blow at the United States, it is understood, although requests for a statement of the treaty by the state department was requested, the officials of this government regarded the convention itself a little more than a harmless appendage to the convention between Russia and Japan in 1907. That treaty contained an express recognition of the principle of equal opportunity in the far east and a promise by the two governments not to interfere therewith. It also recognized the independence and territorial integrity of China.

Reiterations of loyalty to these principles, taken in connection with the general principle that two powers cannot bargain away rights of a third nation, such as the United States claimed. European powers were about to do in regard to the Chinese railroad loan, makes the new treaty unobjectionable, it was understood here, to either the United States, Great Britain or Germany. It is known that the British government agrees with the government of the United States that the open door policy is substantially included in the new treaty, and that that policy must be safeguarded in present and in future arrangements. No doubt is felt here that the German government, which has co-operated with the United States recently in the far east takes the same view.

Mention has been made of the pernicious growth of so-called "courtesy" or senate. The idea is repugnant, because it implies irregular favors, for which similar acts are expected in return. The member who votes today for a wasteful appropriation will demand a similar "courtesy" ere long. The national treasury has been looted in this manner. The word "improvement" is always liberally used in such bills, but it is synonymous with "patronage." The latter has for fellow "a shorter and uglier word," graft!—The Forum.

OUR FOREIGN COMMERCE.

Total for 1910, $3,302,821,057; Total Imports, $1,557,854,854.

Washington, July 13.—The total value of the foreign commerce of the United States during the fiscal year of 1910, which ended on June 30, was $3,302,821,057, according to complete returns made public by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor today.

The total imports were valued at $1,557,854,854, exceeding those of 1907, the previous high record year, by more than $123,000,000. The total exports were exceeded only by the years 1907 and 1908 and were valued at $1,744,966,203, falling $136,000,000 behind 1907 and $116,000,000 below 1908. They exceeded 1909, however, by $52,000,000.

A rapid decline of excess of exports is evident. They exceeded imports by $187,000,000, as against an excess of $357,000,000 in 1909 and $666,000,000 in 1908, the latter the high year for excess of exports.

Six-Foot Channel Discussed.

St. Paul, Minn., July 13.—The annual convention of the Upper Mississippi River Improvement association began here this morning with 300 delegates present from five states bordering along the Mississippi river. The principal object of the association is to secure a six foot channel from St. Paul to the mouth of the Missouri river, which is said now to be practically assured.

Will Preserve "Texas."

Atlanta, Ga., July 13.—A resolution for the state to preserve the ancient engine Texas, winner in the historic pursuit of the Andrews Raiders of the Northern army on the general during the Civil war, was adopted by the senate today. The general has been well cared for, being on exhibition at Chattanooga, but the Texas stands neglected in the yards of the Western and Atlantic road in this city.

ALARMING DEATH RATE AMONG BABIES

CAUSES THE STATE BOARD OF HEALTH TO ACT.

How to Care for New Born Citizens of Kentucky in Regard to Food.

NATURE'S PROVISIONS BEST.

The state board of health has been notified from all sections of the state of the alarming infant mortality from entirely preventable causes. It is important that every baby be kept well, and for these reasons the board makes the following suggestions to fathers and mothers:

The hot weather of this season of the year is extremely dangerous to the lives of the infants any young children, not only because of the depressing effect of high temperature in general, but especially because it is harder to preserve all articles of food, especially cow's milk, in hot weather.

During hot weather ice is absolutely necessary for the preservation of milk, where a cool spring-house is not available, and no milk should be fed to a baby which is not cooled by ice around the bucket as soon as it comes from the cow, and it should be kept next to the ice until ready to be used. Unless you are absolutely sure your water supply is pure, it is safest to use water which has been boiled for drinking and for the preparation of the baby's food.

In practically all cases the mother can and should nurse her own baby. Breast-milk is the natural food for the new-born baby. No other food can compare with it. Ten bottle-fed babies die to one that is breast-fed.

Immediately after birth do not use any kind of artificial food or teas for the baby while waiting for the breast milk to come. Put the baby to the breast every four hours and give nothing else but water that has been boiled. The new baby needs nothing else and will not starve.

Do not nurse the baby whenever it cries. A moderate amount of crying helps to develop the lungs and every baby should cry during the day. Babies who are nursed irregularly, or whenever they cry, practically always get indigestion and then cry harder from the pain. Nurse regularly and the baby will soon learn to expect its nursing at the proper time. Give the baby a little water which has been boiled, several times a day. After two months the time between nursing should be 2 1/2 to 3 hours in the day time, with only one or two feedings at night.

Do not wean the baby as long as he is gaining weight and never do so except by advice of your doctor. If it becomes necessary to feed the baby either entirely or only in part upon the bottle, remember that absolute cleanliness is necessary in all details of the feeding. Because some babies have lived through filth is no arguments that your will. As soon as a bottle is finished it should be thoroughly washed with cold water, then cleaned with hot water and borax (1 tea-spoonful to a pint of water) and set aside in a sunny place for further cleansing before being used again. If you have only a few bottles and it becomes necessary to use the same one for the next feeding boil it for a few minutes with a little soda in the water before putting fresh food into it. Never let the baby nurse from the remains of a bottle which he has not finished. Take it away from the crib, pour out the milk and clean at once. Stale milk curds sticking to the inside of the bottle, becomes poisonous after a few hours and may contaminate fresh milk coming in contact with them.

The care of the nipples is especially important. The simpler the safer. Do not use complicated nipples, and especially do not use a bottle with a long rubber tube. It is impossible to keep it clean and it will certainly cause bowel trouble. After a bottle is finished, the nipple should be removed at once, turned inside out over the finger and scrubbed with cold water and a brush. The cleaned nipple should be kept in fresh borax water (1 tea-spoonful to a pint of water) in a covered glass. Rinse the nipple in boiling water before using it. Do not put the nipple into your own mouth to find out whether the milk is warm enough. Let a few drops fall on your wrist; if it is too hot for your wrist, it is too hot for the baby's mouth.

No general instructions can be given about the preparation of a milk mixture for your baby. Let your doctor tell you how to mix the food. If it is necessary to use cream get it by pouring off half a pint from the top of a quart bottle of milk.

During the summer it is usual to bring the baby's food to a scald after it is prepared. It should then be poured into the clean bottles, corked with baked clean cotton and kept next to the ice until needed. Be sure not to heat a bottle when you go to bed and keep it in bed until nursing time, because you do not want to go to the ice box for it and heat it when the baby needs it. This is certain to make the baby sick.

If a bottle-fed baby is constipated give one or two teaspoonfuls of castor oil. If this does not relieve him within four hours then consult your doctor. At this time he will be able to present a serious summer complaint with which your baby is threatened. If there is any diarrhoea, stop the milk at once, give nothing but pure water which has been boiled, and call the doctor. It may not be too late.

Do not begin milk feeding again until the doctor orders it. Babies practically never starve and they are frequently killed by being fed after illness has gone. Every drop of milk that goes into a baby's mouth after bowel trouble begins, simply adds to the poison already there. Serious or fatal illness can be caused by keeping up milk feeding after the bowels become disordered. A bottle-fed baby should not vomit if its food is pure, unless it is fed too much at a time. Vomiting is usually a sign of approaching illness, either one of the serious diseases of childhood, or more commonly in hot weather, of summer diarrhoea. Vomiting due to this cause may be the first sign of trouble. If vomiting is repeated, stop feeding milk, give water which has been boiled, cool or at the temperature at which the milk is given, and consult your doctor at once.

Do not put too much clothing on the baby in the summer. During the hottest weather a thin loose dress and a diaper are enough for day and night. Never use tight waist bands. Petticoats and skirts should be supported by straps over the shoulders.

Bathe the baby every day. When it is very hot a quick sponging all over later in the day will give him comfort and make his sleep better. Fresh air is as important for the baby's health as fresh food. During the summer keep the baby out of doors as much as possible, and keep it out of the kitchen. They frequently get sunstroked from too much heat in doors.

If the baby has an eruption or breaking out on the skin, consult the doctor. Every rash is not prickly heat; it may be some serious disease like scarlet fever, smallpox or chickenpox.

PREVENTING WIDOWS.

It sounds all but ridiculous to speak of preventing widows, yet that was discussed at the National Conference of Charities and Correction held this year at St. Louis. The persistency with which the subject kept coming up is noted in The Survey.

"It was in a way the keynote to the meeting for every problem of dependence, of education, of crime, of health, is infinitely sharpened when it falls on a woman's shoulders. Did the boys run wild for lack of a father's stern hand; did the girls fall into evil ways because the mothers were away at work; did scanty women's wages mean meager meals and a rickety baby; were all the children sent to work early at the first futureless task that offered wages; did the mother break down from the double hazard of self-support and home-making; did she contract tuberculosis in an unsanitary factory; did she go insane from worry; did she crowd lodges into her home—if any one of a score of such things happened, the question was not, why did it happen, but why was she a widow?"

"So the workers in charity turned from their unending task of filling the widow's cruse and demanded of industry in its characteristic accidents and diseases, in the deadly monotony and speeding up of its processes, in the inadequacy of its wages as measured in terms of family life—demanded of industry an answer as to why it has put upon society a charge for pensions such as no government has ever borne war."

It would be impossible for me to respect any woman who did not have the capacity to make me suffer.

Here's the Proof

For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin, until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Sage and Sulphur. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly, until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is now fairly covered with hair and it keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.

CHAPTER II.

"THIS is a private stateroom," interrupted Moreau, glaring at the intruder.

"What? Why, as I live,"

your admirer said, my dear fellow?

heartily exclaimed the younger man, slapping the other on the back. "These lights are so dashed disabbling I didn't recognize you. I have been watching the game for some time through that

"window," pointing to one on his right,

"and you must remember that a stateroom isn't private so long as the curtains aren't drawn. If I had known you were aboard I would have hunted you up long ago, for you know how

I love a game, colonel, and hence this ventured intrusion. Have you any objection to making it three cornered?"

His bow included Mr. Randall, now blinking at the table.

"Sorry, but quite impossible, sub."

replied Moreau shortly. "I am already this gentleman's master for a matter of ten thousand or so—he has been playing in dam pok luck—and our next wager is for fifty thousand. Too high for yoh, I calculate?"

"Not at all, I assure you," lightly replied the intruder, smiling into the other's venomous eyes. "Come; if your friend is willing, let me sit in. I really insist upon losing to you, colonel.

Won't you introduce me?"

Moreau hesitated, trying to read the other's eyes. Then, apparently satisfied, he turned to the nodding Mr.

Randall, saying: "Have yoh any objection, sub, to making it three?"

My friend, sub, Mr.—er—Mr. Jackson of

New Orleans."

"Honored, sub! Honored!" replied the planter, arising and extending a frank hand. "I warn yoh, sub, that the Randall luck has turned and that yoh will surely lose. Stay out, sub;

stay out!" he added impressively, patting the other's shoulder. "Foh I am about to make a killing, and I don't want yoh to be among the dead. The colonel and I are old men of the world,

sub, but this is no place for a young man like yoh. I trust yoh will take my advice in the spirit in which it is offered, foh I am a father, sub, and—

I like yoh. By Gad, yoh remind me of a dear friend I once had—the Kirbys, sub, of Plaquemine."

"Come," interrupted Moreau, "let us resume our friendly hostilities. Mr.

Randall, foh yoh make yoh landing,

sub, in about half an hour."

"I thank you for your advice, sir,"

said the intruder, with sudden gravity, while gently and unobtrusively he steered Mr. Randall to his seat. "But I am afraid it has come too late, for card games of all kinds are my weakness. Perhaps if I had received it when I was younger— But I see our good colonel is impatient."

"I am," replied Moreau, shuffling the cards. "Foh we have only half an hour, and it is to be the best out of six hands. Come, my money is up, as yoh see, sub, and Mr. Randall draws a deed for his plantation as his stakes,

so we await yoh pleasure, Mr.—er—

Jackson."

"I understand you to say that the stakes were fifty, not twenty thousand?" replied the other, casually glancing at the colonel's roll.

"I calculate my check is good for the balance," replied Moreau, signaling a warning with his eyes—"the National Bank of New Orleans, sub."

"Ah, a very sound institution, for I draw against it myself," observed the younger man. "As, of course, we do not carry such an amount with us," he added, with deference, turning to Mr. Randall, "Colonel Moreau and I must of necessity substitute our best hand when, for a moment, the cards were in his power, and it speaks elegantly for Mr. Jackson's large charity of judgment that he refrained from criticism even when acutely aware that the middle aged creole had rather clumsily garnered his first ace from the bottom of the deck. But as youth must be served, especially when possessor of such consummate skill as that owned by Mr. Jackson, the latter handsomely won his fourth showdown with surprising ease, verve and dash.

"Well, that winds her," airily remarked the colonel, arising and stretching his long arms. "One hundred thousand ain't such a bad cleanup, I reckon,

but yoh always were lucky, yoh young scamp, and there's no playing against it. Yoh even topped my foh kings. I calculate the Randall luck finished a very poh last. How about yoh theory now, sub?"

The planter did not reply, for it is somewhat difficult for a but newly gained man to sense the full humor of his condition. In silence he drew toward him the pen and ink, while for a long moment he stared at the white sheet of paper, upon which he was about to give title to all which he owned. He and his children were beggars, total and complete. This was the turning of the tide, his royal homecoming. For a moment he bowed his grizzled head; then, shutting his teeth against all thoughts of the future, seized the quill pen. For a Randall must show the world how it can lose.

A Randall must be beaten at nothing

—even at playing the fool.

"Yoh name, sub?" he courteously inquired, turning to the young stranger who had proved so fortunate.

"Eugene Kirby, sir."

"What?" exclaimed the planter in a dazed manner. "I thought, sub—"

"Oh, the colonel sometimes calls me

Mr. Jackson because he thinks I resemble the general," lightly replied

Cameo Kirby as, head between hands,

he stared gravely at the table. "Any one will tell you my name is Eugene

Kirby—even the Texas tender knows it."

"Ah, the General. I have a boy, sub, whom we affectionately call by that name," replied Mr. Randall irrelevant-ly, staring at the ceiling. "I have three children, sub. There is Tom and Adele and the General. Their mother is dead, sub. And yoh say yoh name is Eugene Kirby. Very strange, sub.

I know the Kirbys of Plaquemine,

sub. No relation, I suppose. But yoh pardon, sub."

And, with a hand now steady and firm, he wrote and signed the deed to the Randall plantation and, with a bow, handed it to the gambler whose father he had befriended; the gambler whose reputation was said to be the worst on the river; the son of the man who had been his nearest neighbor and closest friend.

This accomplished, Mr. Randall arose unsteadily and walked to the door,

where he turned and for a moment surveyed the smoke fouled room with its litter of empty bottles. And if for a moment a fleeting realization of the very thorough manner in which he had been victimized permeated his throbbing brain no hint of it was de-dicted in face or bearing.

"Good evening, gentlemen," he said gravely, "and thank yoh for the obligation. Good evening!" Head erect,

he walked out and very softly closed the door.

Kirby resumed his preoccupied attitude at the table, while Moreau, carelessly lighting a cheroot and pouring himself a drink, sprawled elegantly over an adjacent couch.

"Well, I calculate that's the easiest mark that ever came our way," he observed, with a laugh. "Green as the everlasting hills," quietly pocket-ing Mr. Randall's wallet, a delicate maneuver which Kirby neglected to note. "I calculate this is the first time yoh and I ever played together, eh? Yoh're a deuce of a hand at the cards, my boy—never saw yoh equal before. I take it, yoh partner, Mr.

Larkin Bunce, is not with yoh this length. "I guess that's your work, my fine old bucko. But I heard another shot. Where's my pal, Gene Kirby?"

His eyes, restlessly searching the darkened corners, at length happened on the huddled thing, now lying very still.

"Gene," he cried, stooping and raising the other's head to his knee. "Speak to me, boy. It's your old pal, Bunce."

"I calculate yoh friend is past speaking, sub," observed Moreau, backing toward the door and keeping a wary eye on the florid faced Yankee. "Mr.

Kirby insulted me, sub, and has paid

foh it with his life. I shot him in fair and honorable combat."

"Fair and honorable hades!" snarled

Bunce, leaping to his feet. "Shot him in the back, yoh skunk—your usual fair and honorable manner! Yoh haven't the nerve to stand up and face a crippled hen!"

"CAMEO KIRBY"

Subtle humor, tear impelling pathos, dueling, lynch law, suicide, attempted murder, gambling, heart entanglement and realistic character drawing combine to make "Cameo Kirby" an unusual play and an unusual novel—a cameo of modern fiction finely graven, richly set; a word cameo by those master craftsmen Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson, wherein are shifting pictures of the old days along the Mississippi when the Natchez and the Robert E. Lee raced to New Orleans with fortunes at stake; old days when gamblers, amateur and professional, won and lost almost unbelievable sums on the river steamers; days when Mark Twain was a pilot and when the real life prototype of Jim Bludso of the Prairie Belle held "her nose" in the bank till the last galoot was ashore. A well born, well intentioned young man through association with bad companions becomes an accomplished gambler. Falsely accused of murder, he meets a young girl, with whom he falls in love. How vital complications baffle him, how conspiracy places his life in the balance, how the love of a pure woman may work wonders in the regeneration of a man—these themes and others give "Cameo Kirby" its thrill, its fascination, its powerful heart interest.

The first installment of this most interesting and delightful story started in yesterday's issue of THE SUN. If you enjoy GOOD fiction, get your copy and read it, and follow the story. It is one of the best of the day.

News of Theatres

On account of the threatening weather last night only a small audience witnessed the second performance of "The College Boy" at the Casino theater, Wallace park, by the Imperia Musical Stock company. Notwithstanding this the play was received with almost as much interest as if the theater had been packed. The company is excellent and is one of the best attractions given at the Casino. Catchy songs and bright lines in the play add to the strength of the plot. Ed Armstrong, as Professor Caromel has a good bass voice and so has Lenora Butler and Bernard Riggs. The choruses are attractive and are composed of exceptionally good voices. Manager William Deal expects a large crowd tonight and has received many compliments for his success in landing so good a production for the popular park. Tonight will be the third and last performance of "The College Boy," with a change in the program Thursday.

I never stood well in chemistry. That is why I derive no enjoyment from making up to a made-up woman.

CUT-OFF STORY

REVIVED BY ST. LOUIS PEOPLE
—NOT BELIEVED.

Burlington Will Afford N., C. & St. L. Entrance Into St. Louis From South.

The following story from St. Louis is not generally credited. It is the old cut-off story of a line from Paris of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis to Cairo, to connect with St. Louis. That plan was proposed before the Burlington bridge proposition took form; but since the Burlington and the N. C. & St. L. have made arrangements to handle through traffic north and south at this point, the old cut-off idea has been abandoned.

The St. Louis story runs: The Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis, which is controlled by the Louisville and Nashville, will gain an entrance to St. Louis, independent of the Illinois Central, on completion of the Cairo and Thebes, the new railroad that it is building to the Thebes bridge.

From Thebes to St. Louis the track of the Iron Mountain in Illinois will be used. The Louisville and Nashville has entered into a freight interchange agreement with the St. Louis Southwestern in relation to southwestern and southeastern traffic. The interchange will be affected at Memphis.

An extension will be constructed from Charleston, Mo., on the Iron Mountain to the river transfer at Columbus, Ky., one terminus of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis.
